

Rüdesheimer Berg Rottland TBA 2007

Produzent

Das Traditions-Weingut im Besitz der Familie Eser liegt im Anbaugebiet Rheingau und ist Mitglied im VDP und der CHARTA-Gruppe.

Jahrgangsbericht

Vintage 2007 at Johannishof:

“2007 was the much desired vintage of each Rheingau vintner. An extremely early blossoming, a long ripening period with moderate weather conditions and sufficient precipitation and a picture book autumn brought us a Riesling vintage that could have hardly been better. The development of the vines was well ahead 3 weeks until late summer. In August the warm temperatures and the sunshine hours allowed for a slower maturation with steady acidity levels. The wines could be harvested during more than 5 weeks without being in a hurry.

The harvest result was very pleasing: good quantities and aromatic Riesling grapes with high must weight.” (Owner/Winemaker Johannes Eser)

Charaktereigenschaften

An extremely impressive wine: very concentrated, very luscious in texture, long and harmonious on the palate with taste of apricot, peach jam, honey, and pineapple.

Fakten

Rebsorte	Riesling
Terroir	Name of vineyard: Berg Rottland - a nearly perfect wine growing microclimate is achieved here due to the strong intensity of light and optimal light reflection from the Rhine. Soil: Quarzite with high contents of slate Exposure: Completely south-facing
Appellation	Rheingau
Vinifikation	During cultivation the focus is placed on the distinctive Riesling character, which results from the attentive fermentation of the wine in stainless steel tanks and wooden barrels.

Alkoholgehalt	Restsüße	Säuregehalt
6.5 %vol	325 g/l	10.7 g/l

